Awesome Aussie band confirmed for SHIFT 2018

Australian indie band and Triple J darlings British India have been announced as the headlining act for this year's SHIFT Festival 2018 presented by Drug Aware.

The four-piece from Melbourne will rock Bunbury on Sunday 15 April at the Koombana Foreshore.

This year's festival – a City of Bunbury event – takes place during Youth Week and is set to be bigger and better than ever.

Alongside British India, Perth four-piece alternative band Woolly Mammoth, will be performing live on stage as well as a host of local acts.

There will also be a pop-up skate park, market stalls, food trucks and youth-friendly activities.

SHIFT 2018 presented by Drug Aware is a free event and the whole community is invited to celebrate Bunbury's young people.

Bunbury Mayor Gary Brennan said the inclusion of such a high-profile band was a boon for Bunbury and the Bunbury Geopraphe region.

"This event will see young people from all over the region head to Bunbury and have a great time getting to know our city," Mayor Brennan said.

"Our young people are an important demographic and the future of Bunbury – this festival is about them and for them."

The SHIFT 2018 presented by Drug Aware kicks off at 1pm to 7pm.
